Re: Andreanna Rainville

To Whom It May Concern:

Andreanna is a true healer. Not only does she have an extraordinary insight into the human condition but she carries with her a deep compassion for the process of others. The patients at my clinic that she has worked with can't wait for her next visit.

Through her years of work with Dr Klinghardt – one of the pioneers in Integrative Medicine in the USA and Europe - she has not only incorporated the core concepts behind his 5 Levels of Healing model that so thoroughly addresses the stages of the healing experience, but she has added many layers of her own experience to this model.

I would not hesitate to hire her as a healer in my clinic, a teacher to others who wish to learn or as an advisor to a clinician starting out in the field of Integrative Medicine. She is a real gift to this field.

Sincerely,
